The Cincinnati Chapter exceeded our goal and donated over 150 gallons of water! (150.19)

The chapter president would like to thank all the area alumni that supported this initiative. He submitted this as a potential news submission for the Alumni times' newsletter.

North Carolina A&T State University is delivering on their core values of learning, excellence, integrity, respect, creativity, engagement and service. In 2015 the Carnegie Foundation of the Advancement of Teaching selected A&T to receive the Community Engagement Classification, an honor that reflects the university's collaboration with local, national, and global communities to improve teaching, learning, scholarship, and research.
